The Helen Webb Harris Scholarship

Wake Robin Golf Club, Inc. is proud to sponsor The Helen Webb Harris Scholarship for graduating high school seniors in the Washington, DC Metropolitan area. A scholarship in the amount of $1000 will be awarded to a female student.

MISSION STATEMENT: To encourage college-bound minority women in the DC Metropolitan area to participate in the game of golf.

In 1937, Helen Webb Harris and twelve other women-several of whom were married to members of the all black male Royal Golf Club (circa 1934)-formed the Wake Robin Golf Club of Washington, DC. Even though it was difficult for African Americans of either sex to be accepted into the golfing world at that time, it was twice as hard for African American women to participate in the game of golf. There was but one public golf course in Washington, DC-the Lincoln Memorial Golf Course (West Potomac Park)-that allowed African American players. The women, early pioneers of golf, were determined and not to be deterred from playing the game of golf. The love of the game as well as the women's tenacity proved to be the catalyst for establishing the Wake Robin Golf Club.

The Helen Webb Harris Scholarship honors the memory of Helen Webb Harris, the first President of the Wake Robin Golf Club, Inc.
